Getting Ready to Read: Creating a Word Wall

Hospitality and Tourism Grades 10/11/12
(Cutting Techniques, Cooking Methods, Bread Baking)

Students are required to learn, on average, over 2000 words each year in various subject areas. Those who have trouble learning new words will struggle with the increasingly complex texts that they encounter in the middle and senior school years. A word wall is a wall, chalkboard or bulletin board listing key words that will appear often in a new unit of study, printed on card stock or taped or pinned to the wall/board. The word wall is usually organized alphabetically.

Purpose

- Identify unfamiliar vocabulary and create a visible reference in the classroom for words that will appear often in a topic or unit of study.

Payoff

Students will:

- practise skimming and scanning an assigned reading before dealing with the content in an intensive way. Students will then have some familiarity with the location of information and with various elements of the text.
- develop some sense of the meaning of key words before actually reading the words in context.
- improve comprehension and spelling because key words remain posted in the classroom.

Tips and Resources

- Skimming means to read quickly - horizontally - through the text to get a general understanding of the content and its usefulness.
- Scanning means to read quickly - vertically or diagonally - to find single words, facts, dates, names or details.
- For directions, see Student Resource, Skimming to Preview Text and Scanning to Preview Text.
- Before building the word wall, consider using the Analysing the Features of Text in Think Literacy: Cross Curricular Approaches, Grades 7-12, to help students become familiar with the text.
- Consider posting certain words for longer periods (for example: words that occur frequently in the unit, words that are difficult to spell, and words that students should learn to recognize on sight).
- Have students refer to the word wall to support their understanding and spelling of the words.
- For sample word walls, see:
  - Teacher Resource, Word Wall Sample for Grades 10/11/12, Hospitality and Tourism, Cutting Techniques,
  - Teacher Resource, Word Wall Sample for Grades 10/11/12, Hospitality and Tourism, Cooking Methods
  - Teacher Resource, Word Wall Sample for Grades 10/11/12, Hospitality and Tourism, Bread Baking

Words, Words, Words pp. 70-71.
When Kids Can’t Read, What Teachers Can Do, Chapter 10.

Further Support

- Add a picture to the word cards (preferably a photograph from a magazine).
- Provide each student with a recording sheet so that they can make their own record of the key words for further review.

If it appears that students will need additional support, review the terminology on the word wall in the two classes following this activity, using Take Five or Think/Pair/Share in the Oral Communication section of Think Literacy: Cross Curricular Approaches, Grades 7-12.

Skimming and Scanning to Preview Text

Skimming

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>What is it?</th>
<th>When you SKIM, you read quickly to get the main idea of a paragraph, page, chapter, or article, and a few (but not all) of the details.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Why do I skim?</td>
<td>Skimming allows you to read quickly to get a general sense of a text so that you can decide whether it has useful information for you. You may also skim to get a key idea. After skimming a piece, you might decide that you want or need to read it in greater depth.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>How do I skim?</td>
<td>1. Read the first few paragraphs, two or three middle paragraphs, and the final two or three paragraphs of a piece, trying to get a basic understanding of the information.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Read in this direction.</td>
<td>2. Some people prefer to skim by reading the first and last sentence of each paragraph, that is, the topic sentences and concluding sentences.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>3. If there are pictures, diagrams, or charts, a quick glance at them and their captions may help you to understand the main idea or point of view in the text.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>4. Remember: You do not have to read every word when you skim.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>5. Generally, move your eyes horizontally (and quickly) when you skim.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Scanning

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>What is it?</th>
<th>When you SCAN, you move your eyes quickly down a page or list to find one specific detail.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Why do I scan?</td>
<td>Scanning allows you to locate quickly a single fact, date, name, or word in a text without trying to read or understand the rest of the piece. You may need that fact or word later to respond to a question or to add a specific detail to something you are writing.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>How do I scan?</td>
<td>1. Knowing your text well is important. Make a prediction about where in a chapter you might find the word, name, fact, term, or date.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Read in these directions.</td>
<td>2. Note how the information is arranged on a page. Will headings, diagrams, or boxed or highlighted items guide you? Is information arranged alphabetically or numerically as it might be in a telephone book or glossary?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>3. Move your eyes vertically or diagonally down the page, letting them dart quickly from side to side and keeping in mind the exact type of information that you want. Look for other closely associated words that might steer you toward the detail for which you are looking.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>4. Aim for 100% accuracy!</td>
</tr>

Reading Different Text Forms: Following Instructions
Hospitality and Tourism Grades 10/11/12 (Recipe)

Students are expected to read and follow instructions in every subject area. This strategy asks students to examine different types of instructions, their features and elements, and how the features, language and organizational patterns can be used to help the reader understand and complete a task.

Purpose
- Provide students with strategies for reading, interpreting and following instructions to complete a specific task.
- Learn how instructions are organized.

Payoff
Students will:
- identify purposes for reading instructions.
- develop a process for reading and following instructions.

Tips and Resources
- Instructions give detailed step-by-step information about a process or a procedure (e.g., directions, recipes, experiments, manuals, tests). They are sometimes called procedures or “how-tos”. Most instructions use organizational patterns, language, and features (diagrams and illustrations, bold or italic type, headings, numbers, lists) to help the reader identify the task and the best way to complete it; however, some instructions are complicated without any features to help the reader determine the sequence of steps.
  Reading and Writing for Success: Senior, pages 143, 283.

Further Support
- Provide students with a list of typical signal words and task prompts and suggestions/strategies for responding to them in your subject area (e.g., explain, list, summarize, give reasons for, select, choose, support).
- Provide students with flow charts and timelines to help track successful completion of oral or written instructions.
- Create a class framework for reading instructions such as:
  - Preview.
  - Highlight and annotate.
  - Think aloud and visualize.
  - Reread.
  - Go step-by-step.
  - Read the diagrams.
  - Ask questions.
- Have students read a set of instructions that has irrelevant or repeated information, or is poorly organized. Have students identify the irrelevant or repetitious information and sentences, and highlight the important information. Ask students to determine what information is missing. Ask students to rewrite the instructions. Compare the original, the modified example, and the students’ work. Note similarities and differences, and suggest reasons for the writers’ decisions. Have students determine the most effective set of instructions and identify the elements that made the instructions easy to follow.
- Provide students with opportunities to follow oral instructions, and discuss how they were able to follow the instructions and what was challenging, confusing or frustrating.

</tr>
<tr>
<td>½ teaspoon salt</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 cup chopped nuts</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 cups chopped chocolate chips</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Preheat oven to 375°F. Cream together butter or margarine, sugar, and brown sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs and vanilla extract and mix. Sift together flour, baking soda and salt. Gradually add sifted dry ingredients to creamed mixture; blend well. Stir in nuts and chocolate chips. Drop dough by teaspoonfuls onto a non-greased cookie sheets. Bake for 8 to 10 minutes, or until light brown. Makes about 6 dozen 2 ½ inch cookies.

1. To what temperature should you preheat the oven?
2. Which ingredients are creamed together until light and fluffy?
3. Which ingredients are sifted together?
4. Which are added first, the eggs and vanilla or the nuts and chocolate chips?
5. How much dough is dropped onto ungreased cookies sheets for each cookie?
6. How long do you bake the cookies?
7. How many cookies does the recipe yield?

Effective writers use different strategies to sort the ideas and information they have gathered in order to make connections, identify relationships, and determine possible directions and forms for their writing. This strategy gives students the opportunity to reorganize, regroup, sort, categorize, classify and cluster their notes.

Purpose
- Identify relationships and make connections among ideas and information.
- Select ideas and information for possible topics and subtopics.

Payoff
Students will:
- model critical and creative thinking strategies.
- learn a variety of strategies that can be used throughout the writing process.
- reread notes, gathered information and writing that are related to a specific writing task.
- organize ideas and information to focus the writing task.

Tips and Resources
- Strategies for webbing and mapping include:
  - Clustering – looking for similarities among ideas, information or things, and grouping them according to characteristics.
  - Comparing – identifying similarities among ideas, information, or things.
  - Contrasting – identifying differences among ideas, information, or things.
  - Generalizing – describing the overall picture based on the ideas and information presented.
  - Outlining – organizing main ideas, information, and supporting details based on their relationship to each other.
  - Relating – showing how events, situations, ideas and information are connected.
  - Sorting – arranging or separating into types, kinds, sizes, etc.
  - Trend-spotting – identifying things that generally look or behave the same.

Further Support
- Provide students with sample graphic organizers that guide them in sorting and organizing their information and notes- e.g., cluster (webs), sequence (flow charts), compare (Venn diagrams).
- Have students create a variety of graphic organizers that they have successfully used for different writing tasks. Create a class collection for students to refer to and use.
- Provide students with access to markers, highlighters, scissors, and glue, for marking and manipulating their gathered ideas and information.
- Select a familiar topic (perhaps a topic for review). Have students form discussion groups. Ask students to recall what they already know about the topic, and questions that they still have about the topic. Taking turns, students record one idea or question on a stick-on note and place it in the middle of the table. Encourage students to build on the ideas of others. After students have contributed everything they can recall about the topic, groups sort and organize their stick-on notes into meaningful clusters on chart paper. Ask students to discuss connections and relationships, and identify possible category labels. Provide groups with markers or highlighters to make links among the stick-on notes. Display the groups’ thinking.
