Introduction
Leadership is second only to teaching in its impact on student outcomes. Principals and vice-principals play an essential role as school leaders to achieve this impact. Supervisory officers, in turn, play a critical role by putting in place supportive system practices and procedures for school and system leaders. In the ministry discussion paper, Leading Education: New Supports for Principals and Vice-principals in Ontario Publicly Funded Schools, released in December 2005, a commitment was made to a number of initiatives intended to develop, support and sustain the highest quality leadership possible in schools and boards across the province. In keeping with this commitment, and in order to ensure a consistent and effective approach to implementing these initiatives, the Leadership Framework for Principals and Vice-Principals and the Leadership Framework for Supervisory Officers (the frameworks) were developed.

Purposes
The purposes of the frameworks are to:
- inspire a shared vision of leadership in schools and boards
- promote a common language that fosters an understanding of leadership and what it means to be a school and system leader
- identify the practices and competencies that describe effective leadership
- guide the design and implementation of professional learning and development for school and system leaders.

The frameworks are not intended as a job description for the leader, nor as a checklist against which to assess performance. Rather, they provide frameworks for growth, which are sufficiently detailed to describe good leadership, but broad enough to be applicable in the various contexts in which school and system leaders function throughout their career.

Structure of the Frameworks
The frameworks are made up of two parts:
- Part One – Leader Practices and Competencies
- Part Two – System Practices and Procedures

Part One – Leader Practices and Competencies
Leader practices are the actions, behaviours and functions found through research and professional experience to have a positive impact on student achievement. Leader competencies are the skills, knowledge and attitudes of effective school or system leaders.

Leader practices and competencies are organized into five domains, in no particular order: setting directions, building relationships and developing people, developing the organization, leading the instructional program, and securing accountability. Each domain is then described through the practices, skills, knowledge and attitudes relevant to the domain.

Part Two – System Practices and Procedures
System practices and procedures, which support successful school leadership, are organized into six domains, in no particular order: school and district improvement, fostering a culture of professionalism, leadership development, administrative structures, parent and community supports, and succession planning. Each domain is then described through indicators relevant to the domain. The Leadership Self-Review Tool provides a set of materials leaders can use to assess the extent to which system practices and procedures provide the structures and supports principals and vice-principals need to be successful school leaders.

Background on the Development of the Frameworks
The Leadership Framework for Principals and Vice-Principals and the Leadership Framework for Supervisory Officers complement each other to the extent that successful leaders draw on the same fundamental repertoire of leadership practices. The Leadership Framework for Supervisory Officers is tailored to address the complexity of supervisory officer roles as reflected in legislation and in the wide-ranging academic and administrative settings within which they provide leadership.

Contextual factors that should be taken into account when reviewing the frameworks include the research foundations, the Ontario perspective, the evolving focus of school leaders, and the range in roles and responsibilities of supervisory officers in the Ontario context.

Research Foundations
There is currently a large and evolving body of professional knowledge about effective leadership. The frameworks rely on this research to define leadership practice as a collection of patterned actions that draw on a set of competencies comprised of skills, knowledge and attitudes. The core leadership practices delineated in the frameworks are those that have been found to have the greatest impact on student outcomes.

These broad categories of leadership practices are the basis for the articulation of more finely detailed practices, informed by professional experience, in four of the five domains of the frameworks: setting directions, building relationships and developing people, developing the organization, and leading the instructional program. The fifth domain, securing accountability, was developed to specifically address the accountability function of school and system leaders in all the domains, as practised in the Ontario context.

The Ontario Context
Successful school and system leadership is responsive to the diverse nature of Ontario’s communities. The practices and competencies in the frameworks describe leadership broadly in a way that is intended to be inclusive of the diversity found in schools and communities across the province. Their application will be shaped and informed by the community context. For example, in francophone schools and school boards, the application of the practices and competencies will take into consideration the implementation of the Politique d’aménagement linguistique (PAL) already underway in these boards. In another example, leadership in Catholic schools and boards will be carried out in the context of the board’s articulation of Catholic faith perspectives.

The demographic and contextual diversity in Ontario schools together with the province’s commitment to high levels of student achievement have heightened the importance of school and system leaders as instructional leaders who support the diverse needs of all students through their commitment to equity in student outcome. As instructional leaders, principals and supervisory officers embed direct involvement in instruction in their daily work through team work with all staff focused on improved school and classroom practices. As leaders who are committed to equity of outcome, they help to ensure inclusive and instructionally effective learning environments that increase the likelihood that all students will be successful learners. School and system leaders carry out these specific aspects of their role using a growth-oriented and collaborative approach across all the domains of the frameworks.

The Leadership Framework for Supervisory Officers additionally takes into account the diverse functions and duties of system leaders: those with direct school accountability will apply leadership practices and competencies differently from those whose main focus is on district administration related to human resources or business.

Practices and competencies evolve as leaders move through various career stages, specialized assignments, and unique educational environments. School and system leaders expand and strengthen their repertoire of practices, skills, knowledge and attitudes over time, provided they have opportunities to grow and are supported by school boards that are committed to leadership development.

Note: The frameworks are working drafts which continue to evolve as a result of continued research in Ontario and international jurisdictions and through consultation with a cross section of stakeholders. Individual school and system leaders can provide feedback on the framework to the ministry or to the Institute for Education Leadership through their associations.

Leadership Framework for Supervisory Officers

Part 1: Leader Practices and Competencies

Securing Accountability

The supervisory officer is responsible for creating conditions for student success and is accountable to students, parents, the community, supervisors and the board for ensuring that students benefit from a high quality education.

Practices:
The supervisory officer ensures individual staff accountability is clearly defined, understood, agreed to and subject to rigorous review and evaluation.

- measures and monitors leadership effectiveness through student achievement

- works with principals to align school targets with board and provincial targets

- supports principals’ work with school councils so councils can participate actively and authentically in their advisory role

- develops and presents a coherent, understandable, accurate and transparent account of board and school performance to a range of audiences; e.g., ministry, board, parents, community

- reflects on a peer and mentors’ contribution to board achievements and takes account of feedback from others

- participates actively in personal external evaluation and makes adjustments to leadership practices and personal performance

- creates an organisational structure which reflects the board’s values and enables the management systems, processes and work to within legal requirements.

- makes connections to ministry goals to strengthen commitment to board improvement efforts

- establishes liaisons with ministry to influence ministry direction in ways that support board plans

- develops and applies appropriate performance management practices to goals and outcomes identified in the board improvement plan

Competencies:

Skills

The supervisory officer is able to:

- demonstrate the principles and practice of effective teaching and learning

School and School Board Improvement

The commitment the board demonstrates to raising student achievement and closing student achievement gaps, to treating people ethically, and to empowering the whole board.

Indicators:

- The board provides support for building a common vision and mission for the school.
- All members of the school system (e.g., trustees, leaders, staff, school council members) work together to take responsibility for the learning of all students.
- The board recognizes the importance of professional learning communities and communities of practice as ways of supporting school improvement.
- The board supports capacity-building as the route to improved student achievement.
- The board exhibits a culture which supports school-based innovation within the board's shared vision.
- The board provides financial resources to support school improvement planning.

Fostering a Culture of Professionalism

The procedures that the board uses to ensure that it has positive working relationships with its school leaders, so that principals and vice-principals feel that they are respected and trusted leaders within the system and that their input is sought and considered.

Indicators:

- The board has policies and processes in place that enhance positive working relationships.
- The board supports the development of a positive and supportive school climate in its schools.
- The board recognizes excellence at all levels of the organization.
- Flexible structures at all levels of the system communicate a culture of respect.

Leadership Development

The approaches and activities that the board has in place to provide the necessary training and opportunities for principals and vice-principals to build their capacity to be visionary instructional leaders and managers of a changing culture in their schools.

Indicators:

- The board’s leadership development model is based on a definition and a shared understanding of effective leadership that is consistent with evidence of best practice.
- The leadership development model is consistent with evidence-based best practices, institutionalized, and communicated to all personnel.
- Leadership development processes reflect contemporary understandings of leadership and learning.
- The board’s leadership plan is evaluated on an on-going basis.

Administrative Structures

The procedures that the board follows and the administrative structures that it has in place to streamline and buffer external requests (e.g., mail, email, and requests for data) and to provide central office support, including technological resources, to reduce the administrative burden on principals and vice-principals.

Indicators:

- The board has developed protocols for schools’ liaisons with community agencies and services (e.g., public health agencies, municipal services, community police).
- The board provides technical support for technology applications in schools and for data-driven decision making.
- The board has clear lines of communication to support a variety of principal and vice-principal functions.
- The board provides human resources to support the principal and vice-principal as instructional leaders.

Parent and Community Supports

The procedures that the board has in place to support schools in involving parents and community in the school.

Indicators:

- The board provides training for school council chairs.
- The board has clear lines of communication for public communications (e.g., letters home, press releases for events, communications related to emergencies).
- The board provides human resources to support the principal and vice-principal as instructional leaders.
- The board provides support for the use of school volunteers.

Succession Planning, Including Recruitment, to Build Capacity and Retain and Sustain Effective Leaders

The procedures the board has in place to ensure that high quality candidates are ready and willing to take on school leadership roles and that all aspects of the transition from one leader to the next have been carefully considered.

Indicators:

- The board has well-developed, well-communicated, and inclusive identification and recruitment practices.
- The board provides technical support for communication between board and principals and vice-principals about professional concerns and complaints.
- Supports are in place for newly appointed administrators.
- The board’s placement and transfer processes for principals and vice-principals include supports for success.
